Comments from MTN Rwanda Chief Executive Officer – Monzer Ali

2025 was a pivotal year for MTN Rwanda during which we expanded our market share and accelerated commercial momentum, with a strong service revenue growth and a return to profitability. We sustained our disciplined approach to expense efficiencies, which supported our underlying EBITDA margin improvement, return to profit and cash generation. Fintech, enterprise and data remained a key driver of our growth strategy and delivered another pleasing performance, as we continued to deepen financial inclusion in Rwanda.

The reintroduction of mobile termination rates (MTRs) in August 2025, following constructive engagement with the regulator, supported our FY 2025 performance and we believe will help to build a more sustainable industry structure over the long-term.

Constructive macroeconomic environment

Rwanda's macroeconomic fundamentals were underpinned by sustained economic growth and contained inflation. According to the National Bank of Rwanda (BNR), real GDP growth for 2025 is estimated at approximately 7.0%, primarily driven by the services and industry sectors.

According to the National Institute of Statistics Rwanda (NISR) annual average urban inflation[1] rose to 7.0%, at the higher end of BNR's target range of 2-8%, during the year reflecting sustained price pressures across the health, transport and education sectors. Currency pressures moderated relative to the prior year, with the Rwandan franc depreciating by an average of 8.4% (13.6% in 2024) against the US dollar in 2025[2].

Robust commercial and financial performance

MTN Rwanda delivered solid results in 2025, with a respectable growth in our subscriber base of 7.4% YoY to 8.2 million. Active data subscribers recorded a 14.1% increase to 2.8 million, supported by enhanced network quality and successful implementation of the 3G to 4G migration campaign. Active MoMo users grew by 17.3% to 6.2 million, deepening our fintech penetration and reinforcing the strategic importance of our digital financial services platform.

Service revenue increased by 14.7% YoY to Rwf 295.7 billion, supported by resilient voice and data trends, along with the sustained momentum in fintech. EBITDA grew by 17.3% to Rwf 106.8 billion, reflecting operating leverage and disciplined cost management, while PAT rebounded by 300.6% to Rwf 10.8 billion, restoring full year profitability.

Network investments remained a priority during the year, with the phased rollout of our 5G offering, the addition of 355 new 4G sites and continued investment in our core network, increasing 4G population coverage by 8pp to 94.8%. These initiatives enhanced network quality, capacity and improved customer experience across the country, reinforcing our commitment to deliver best-in-class network infrastructure for Rwandans.

Creating shared value

During 2025, our Corporate Social Investment focused on inclusive growth and digital access. Through Level Up Your Biz, 40 agents received business training and working capital support. Connect Women in Business equipped 500 women with financial, legal, digital skills, mentorship and capital to grow enterprises across diverse sectors, including vulnerable groups.

Under Y'ello Care 2025, MTN employees volunteered nationwide, reaching over 1,500 beneficiaries through digital skills training, mobile money e-commerce support and the donation of digital equipment. We provided devices and solar panels to community health workers in low-power areas and partnered with Rwanda Assistive Technology Access to deliver accessible smartphones to visually impaired individuals.

We also invested in education supporting students through Imbuto Foundation scholarships, university partnerships and the Dusangire Lunch 2.0 programme, which helped 1,800 students stay in school and learn with dignity.

Dividend

While the company returned to profitability in 2025, the Board has recommended that no dividend be declared for the year ended 31 December 2025 in order to support the strengthening of the Company's balance sheet, improve leverage and retain cash to fund in strategic growth investments that will improve long-term earnings resilience and enhance sustainable shareholder value.

The Company continues to invest in network modernisation, 4G expansion to improve nationwide coverage and the phased rollout of 5G infrastructure across Rwanda. In addition, investment in advanced technology platforms and enhanced capabilities remains critical to delivering the best-in-class network quality and customer experience that underpins future growth.

In this context, the Board remains committed to driving sustained profitability and the continued strengthening of our balance sheet in order to restore dividend payments over the medium term.

Outlook

Building on the strong progress delivered in 2025, we enter 2026 on a stronger footing to sustain our improved commercial momentum and earnings trajectory. We remain focused on accelerating service revenue growth, deepening fintech penetration and enhancing customer value through continued investment in network quality, digital platforms and advanced technology capabilities.

We will continue to advance our expense efficiency programme (EEP) to drive positive operating leverage and margin resilience, while maintaining a disciplined and returns driven capital allocation approach.

We maintain our medium-term guidance for service revenue in the mid-teens growth range and EBITDA margins stable in a 40–42% range. We revise our capex intensity target lower to 7–10% (from 15-18% previously), as we further optimize our deployment and support our focus on strengthening our balance sheet and liquidity positions.

Effects of prior year restatements

The Company accounts for leases in accordance with IFRS 16 – Leases.

During 2025, as part of the Company's ongoing review and continuous enhancement of its financial reporting processes, management identified that certain non-lease components related to network infrastructure agreements had previously been included in the measurement of lease liabilities and right-of-use (ROU) assets. Following a detailed technical assessment, these components have now been excluded in line with the requirements of IFRS 16.

As a result, the Company has made an adjustment to the accounting treatment of these items, which primarily affects the measurement of right-of-use assets and lease liabilities, with corresponding impacts on depreciation, finance costs and foreign exchange movements.

To ensure consistency and full transparency, the Company has applied this adjustment retrospectively to the comparative information for the year ended 31 December 2024, including the opening balances as of 1 January 2024.

The FY 2024 comparative figures presented in this announcement have therefore been updated to reflect this refinement in accounting treatment. Further details of this restatement is provided in Notes 36 and 37 of the Company's 2025 audited annual financial statements.

Importantly, these adjustments relate to the technical application of accounting standards and do not impact the Company's underlying operational performance, cash generation, or strategic direction.

Management remains confident in the strength of the Company's financial reporting framework and is committed to maintaining high standards of transparency and governance.

Strong earnings recovery driven by disciplined execution

Our business delivered sustained operational momentum in 2025, translating into stronger commercial execution and improved financial performance. We added 563k subscribers, expanding our total base to 8.2 million. This translated into market share gains of 3.2pp to 65.2% and supported the 14.7% YoY growth in service revenue. This outcome reflected an encouraging improvement in voice and data revenue trends in the year, which supplemented the continued strong performance of fintech.

Data revenue recorded growth of 7.1% YoY, driven by the double-digit increase in active data subscribers and strong traffic growth; though tempered by ongoing pricing pressures in the market. Furthermore, targeted customer value management campaigns and ongoing 3G-to-4G migration accelerated 4G adoption and improved network experience, with over 560k subscribers upgrading to 4G. This supported a 55.3% increase in total data volumes to 169,770TB highlighting sustained customer adoption. The contribution of data revenue to total service revenue declined to 16.4% (2024: 17.5%).

Voice revenue declined moderately by 2.4% YoY, reflecting ongoing pricing pressures in the market. However, our continued commercial interventions, including pricing optimisation and customer value management initiatives, resulted in a moderating slowdown of 1.6% in Q4 2025. The contribution of voice revenue to total service revenue declined to 22.7% (2024: 26.7%).

MoMo continued to deliver strong YoY revenue growth of 30.4%, underpinned by solid performance in advanced services, various CVM initiatives and an increase in the merchant base to 613k, up 17.8%. Advanced services revenue grew by 34.8% and contributed 28.5% to overall MoMo revenue (2024: 27.6%), with MoMo revenue contribution to total service revenue increasing by 6.2pp to 51.5% (2024: 45.3%).

EBITDA rose by 17.3% YoY, delivering an EBITDA margin of 35.8%, a 1.0pp increase YoY. The improvement in EBITDA was underpinned by robust topline growth in fintech and continued execution of our EEP, resulting in Rwf 18.0 billion in cost savings for the year. However, one-off exceptional and prior year items, relating to impairment provisions and VAT adjustments, were recognized in the fourth quarter of 2025, resulting in a Q4 YoY EBITDA decline of -33.0%. Excluding the one-off and prior year items, underlying EBITDA for the year is Rwf 115.5 billion, representing a 26.8% YoY increase and a margin of 38.7% (3.9pp improvement).

Depreciation and amortisation decreased by 4.9%, reflecting lower capex additions for the year and reduction in right of use asset depreciation.

Solid topline revenue growth and higher EBITDA resulted in profit after tax (PAT) of Rwf 10.8 billion, compared to a loss of Rwf 5.4 billion in the prior year. Excluding one-off exceptional items, underlying PAT amounted to Rwf 17.0 billion.

Capex (ex-leases) decreased by 8.0% to Rwf 34.0 billion, reflecting a targeted approach to capital allocation, rather than a moderation in investment activity. We remain committed to strategic investment in high-impact areas, particularly network modernisation, fintech expansion and digital platforms, to drive returns and support long-term value creation.

Adjusted free cash flow increased by 34.5% YoY to Rwf 72.9 billion, underpinned by strong earnings and disciplined capital allocation.

Outlook

Rwanda's macroeconomic environment is expected to remain broadly supportive in 2026, with real GDP growth projected at approximately 7.2% according to BNR, supported by infrastructure investment and sustained momentum in the services and industry sectors. BNR expects Inflation to remain elevated in the near term, slightly above it's target range in the first half of 2026, before easing thereafter, returning towards the target band by end of 2026.

MTN Rwanda enters 2026 with a more resilient operating profile, strengthened earnings base and sustained commercial momentum. The strategic focus is on driving service revenue growth, supported by customer value management initiatives.

Fintech remains a key driver of revenue growth and enabler of financial inclusion in Rwanda, as we scale our advanced services and strengthen the merchant ecosystem.

Network leadership remains central to our strategy. Advancement of nationwide 4G population coverage, alongside targeted 5G deployment in high-demand areas, supports accelerating data consumption and reinforces long-term competitiveness. Capital allocation remains disciplined and returns driven, prioritising radio access network modernisation (RAN) and digital platform upgrades.

Operational efficiency and cash flow resilience continue to be a priority. We will continue to progress our EEP, including cost optimisation and improved working capital management to support margin stability and sustain cash generation.

We remain committed to navigating the regulatory environment constructively, as new industry frameworks are introduced in 2026, with the objective of fostering a balanced, competitive and investment friendly sector.

As we transition into our next strategic phase, we are confident that our strengthened execution and continued investment in connectivity, financial inclusion and digital transformation will enable MTN Rwanda to lead in delivering digital solutions for Rwanda's progress.

The Board and management thank our customers for their continued trust, our employees for their commitment and our shareholders, partners and regulators for their continued support as we work together to drive Rwanda's digital and financial inclusion agenda.
